AFTERNOON DISPATCHES

Guiteau will Undoubtedly Swing—Decision to-day.

Land Decisions—Steam Fog Signal at Lime Point—Disarming the Indians will stop the Indian Wars.

Associated Press Dispatches.]

WASHINGTON, May 14.—District Attorney Corkhill was asked to-night what the decision of the Supreme Court of the District would be on the appeal of Guiteau for a new trial. He replied: "The opinion of the Court will be given on Tuesday. It will be against Guiteau, and will sustain all the rulings of Judge Cox, who tried the case. Everything looks now as though Guiteau will be hanged."

"Will his counsel make any more efforts in the direction they have?"

"Oh, yes," said Corkhill; "Reed will attempt to get the case up again on a writ of habeas corpus, but he will fail in it. The decision of the Court on Tuesday will be final, as there is no appeal, and as that court will not meet again until October, there cannot be any judicial proceedings which can interfere with the sentence being carried out. Reed will probably appeal to the President for a commutation of the sentence to imprisonment for life as a last resort, but, that, too, will fail. My judgment is that the President will not interfere and that Guiteau will be hanged on the last day of June, as sentenced.

AGAINST GUITEAU.

The Post of to-day has the following positive statement: Chief Justice Carter and Judges McArthur, Haynes, and James held a consultation Saturday, summing up the arguments of the counsel in the application of Guiteau for a re-hearing. The consultation lasted four hours, and was marked by the most searching examination of authorities and the most rigorous analysis of every point was made in the arguments. The Judges were in thorough harmony all through. Their decision will be announced May 22d. The decision affirms the sentence of the court below, overruling the exceptions.

AN IVANPAGH CLAIM.

The Secretary of the Interior has decided, in the case of the Ivanpagh vs. The Lizzie Bullock claim, that the party who has filed with the register an application for a patent, accompanied by a plot of the survey, duly approved by the Surveyor-General, can not be deprived of his rights to proceed by the protest from parties who have not filed application, but allege an attention so to do.

STEAM FOG SIGNAL AT LIME POINT.

Page made a favorable report yesterday to the House, by instruction of the Committee on Commerce, recommending an appropriation of $12,000 for the construction of a steam fog signal at Lime Point, at the entrance of San Francisco harbor. The proposed site on Lime Point is on the north side of Golden Gate, opposite Fort Point, and is already the property of the Government.

LAND CASES DECIDED.

The Secretary of the Interior has decided the issuance of a patent to Juan Hawes and Juan Vaunbeber for the Rancho Arroyo del Rodeo, comprising 1,475 acres in Santa Cruz county. A patent has also been issued to Jose Maria Aguilar for 1,200 acres of land in Los Angeles county, known as Rancho Canada de los Nogatiio [Nogales!] In the matter of the Rancho Las Virgenes, where a survey has been ordered by the Secretary of the Interior, but withheld upon recommendation and petition of interested parties pending an opinion by the Land Commissioner, Secretary Teller has decided that his original order be executed.

PERMANENT NAVY FUND.

The House Committee on Naval Affairs will make an effort to pass, under suspension of the rules, a bill to provide for a permanent construction fund for the Navy by the sale of unserviceable supplies and vessels.

SHIPHERD SUMMONED AGAIN.

Shipherd has been summoned to appear before the Committee on Foreign Affairs on Wednesday.

A CANDIDATE FOR GLORY.

NEW YORK, May 15.—The Graphic's Washington special says that Master Lucien Young, of the navy, who desires to go to the arctic regions under the provisions of the Calkins bill, says that his plan is entirely feasible and will incur no special risk of loss of life.

Disarm the Savages.

NEW YORK, May 13.—The Herald's Washington correspondent says: A gentleman for some time resident in Arizona, said to your correspondent last evening: "If the Secretary actually disarms the Indians he will put an end to all further Indian troubles. Whether he will succeed in doing it or not is in my opinion an open question. The Indians and bad white men will all league together to defeat him. If he had the power to hang the traders who sell arms and ammunition to the Indians, that would help him; but one thing is certain, if he can disarm the Indians on the reservations he will save a good many lives of white men, women and children. In Arizona the Indians were not only armed, but better armed than the troops last Fall, and as they choose their own time and places for attack they manage to kill a good many people. Secretary Teller is carefully preparing to make some other changes in the Indian policy loking in the direction of making the lives of white men in the Territories reasonably safe against Indian attacks. There is reason to believe that under his administration of Indian affairs some attention will be paid to the security of white settlers liable to Indian raids.

Rumored Drowning of a Pleasure Party.

CHICAGO, May 15.—A report has been received that a pleasure boat had been capsized on Lake Calumet, South Chicago, and that twelve persons were drowned. No particulars have been received yet, and the story is not fully credited.

OTHER LANDS.

Arrests are Being Made but no Clue is Found to the Assassins.

NEW YORK, May 14.—A Dublin special of the 13th says: Although since the removal of Chief Hillyer of the constabulary force but few facts have been allowed to reach the public concerning the operations of the police in connection with the recent assassination, it is known that several new and important arrests have been made within twenty-four hours: It is rumored this evening that the detectives have arrested four men whom they found at Wynne's Hotel, on lower Abby street, on a charge of having assassinated Lord Frederick Cavendish and Under Secretary Burke. Wynne's hotel is close by the office of the United Ireland newspaper, and is one of the most respectable hotels in the city. Being patronized only by the wealthy. The reticence of the police when questioned as to the truth of the rumor, together with the fact that all inquiries at the hotel are met with an evasive answer and a reply that the proprietor "is not in," has caused considerable excitement, and leads to the belief that the arrests are the most important yet made. Inquiries at the general office are met with a curt refusal on the part of the police to converse on the subject.

SCANNING THE FACES.

CORK, May 15.—Robt. Dowdall was arrested on the arrival of the train from Dublin on suspicion of being concerned in the Dublin murders. His face was scratched.

MAKING NO PROGRESS.

DUBLIN, May 13.—Rust, who it was stated drove the car containing the murderers, is a car owner. He was questioned as to whether any of his cars was missing but without result. The police have made no progress in the case.

ATROCIOUS CRUELTY.

LONDON, May 15.—An Austrian physician, who visited the Jews' hospital at Odessa, states that there are 125 horribly mutilated persons there, the Russians having poured petroleum into their wounds.

OFF FOR EGYT.

PARIS, May 15.—The French squadron has sailed for Alexandria.

PARNELL IMPUTES IT TO THE FENIANS.

NEW YORK, May 14.—A special to the Herald says: Parnell distinctly imputes the assassination of Cavendish and Burke to the Fenians. "However the responsibility," he is reported to have said textually, "must not be attributed to the whole association. It has numerous branches, having great independence. It may be, indeed, I am inclined to think it is, one of these branches, composed of fanatics, which prepared and carried out the assassination."

Speeches From the Irish Members.

LONDON, May 14.—Parnell's short speech in the House last Thursday drew from Lewis, member for Londonderry, a burst of welcome. The Irish cheered Parnell's prediction of a thousand fold worse failure for the new coercion than for the old. Dillon's speech was interrupted by the Speaker and by various members, when, in describing the bill as inaugurating an era of political and judicial assassinations he attributed the murders of Saturday to the reign of Forster, upon whose management the bloody deed must be visited. Dillon's speech produced great effect on the English members, and his warning to them to beware that something similar did not happen again, caused some of them to grow white with rage and terror. Cries to have him "named" were unsuccessful, and he went on to compare the state of things in all parts of Europe, where severity only made the law more hateful, and where that severity was only tempered by assassination, the consummation to which Mr. Forster's "blood-thirsty" speech tended.

PACIFIC COAST DISPATCHES.

The San Francisco Grain Exchange Formally Opens.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—The San Francisco Grain Exchange, an offshoot of the Board of Brokers, opened formally at 1 o'clock. There was a good attendance, but little attempt was made to do business. The chairman made a speech stating the objects, interests, etc., of the exchange. A few sales were then made in a lively way, and the session adjourned. The opening seems to promise a brisk business.

SMALL POX ON A CHINA STEAMER.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—Eight new cases of smallpox were reported as developed yesterday on the British steamer Altenower. The steamer brought Chinese from Hongkong, and has been in quarantine about ten days.

CRUSHED UNDER A TRAIN.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—Edward Mitchell, aged 17 years, was run over and instantly killed last evening by a local train near Alameda. He attempted to jump off the train while it was moving. Three cars passed over his head, crushing it to a jelly.

AN INDIAN ROW—FIREWATER.

SAN BERNARDINO, May 14.—A fight occurred among our Indians this afternoon, only a short distance from Starkie's Hotel, which came near being a serious matter. We saw a squaw with a cut below her left shoulder about two inches in length. The depth we could not ascertain as the flow of blood was profuse. A pony also received a severe gash in one side which was intended for its rider. We learn that others were injured. Our Indians for some time have been able to get plenty of fire-water, consequently the above results.

A CRAZY MAN'S DOINGS.

MARYSVILLE, May 15.—At a farm house in Butte county, yesterday morning, Joseph Hyer, a crazy man, fatally stabbed Napoleon Theodore, one of his watches, and then set fire to the granary. He then came to Marysville and was put under arrest. The fire destroyed the granary and damaged the house. Hyer had been crazy for several weeks.

IT WAS LOADED.

TOMBSTONE, May 14.—Two accidents occurred here yesterday from the careless handling of firearms. Mrs. Marmont received a slight wound in the forehead, caused by a pistol falling to the ground and going off while a friend was dismounting from a wagon. Willie Simms, in firing off a pistol for amusement, the pistol hung fire. He looked down the barrel to learn the cause, and it went off, inflicting a serious wound in the forehead.

Three men named Fonte, Meyerhead and McDonald, employed by the Huachuca Water Company, were injured by the premature explosion of a blast. Fonto was wounded seriously, the others slightly.

During the "Pinafore" performance last evening local hits aiming at the Presidential proclamation were got off by the actors and were received with storms of applause, and the impromptu poet was cheered to the echo.

LORDSBURG, N. M., May 15.—C. M. Conro, of the firm of Carroll & Conro, and well known in San Francisco, died here at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, of inflammation of the bowels.

Popular Contribution Proposed.

CHICAGO, May 15.—The Society of the Army of the Cumberland propose a popular contribution on Decoration Day towards erecting in Washington a statue of the late President Garfield, who was so conspicuous a member of that army. Contributions may be made through the Associated Press papers or sent direct to Lieutenant-General Sheridan, Chicago, or to H. C. Corbit, Assistant Adjutant-General U. S. A., Washington, D. C.

NOTES, ETC.

Artemus Ward (Charles Brown,) was one author of whom it may be well-said "though dead he liveth," for some of his jokes will survive with the English language, and be translated into its successor should it have one. Many of his witticisms have become household words, and are daily used by thousands who know not from whence they came. Perhaps there have been superior wits to Artemus, but there are none known to us who were as a whole so completely irresistible, and so fully convey to the listener or reader the fullness of the peculiarly colored word-picture he had himself painted. And the ridiculous gravity of the man while narrating his best efforts was as provocative of mirth as the matter of his discourse, and more so, often. Were we to live forever, we could never forget his smileless face and the sober manner in which in his famous lecture on "The Babes in the Woods," he alluded to Brigham Young,—the late High Priest of the polygamous Mormons, and which was received by roar upon roar of laughter:—"You have probably heard of Brigham Young. He lives in Salt Lake. He is a married man, or, perhaps I ought to say, a muchly married man!" And speaking of Brigham and Salt Lake, we think it good reading to reprint the wit's narrative of the narrow escape he had from being a Mormon while he was in what he termed that "Second Sodom of Gomorrah." It was an adventure with seventeen young Mormon widows:

"I regret to say that efforts were made to make a Mormon of me while I was in Utah.

It was leap-year when I was there, and seventeen young widows—the wives of a deceased Mormon (he died by request)—offered me their hearts and hands. I called upon them one day, and taking their soft, white hands in mine—which made eighteen hands altogether—I found them in tears. And I said, "Why is this thus? What is the reason of this thusness?"

They hove a sigh—seventeen sighs of different size. They said,

"Oh, soon thou wilt be gonested away!"

I told them that when I got ready to leave a place I usually wentested. They said, "Doth not like us?"

I said, "I doth, I doth!" I also said, "I hope your intentions are honorable, as I am a lone child and my parents are far, far away!"

They said, "Wilt not marry us?"

I said, "Oh, no; it cannot was."

Again they asked me to marry them, and again I declined. When they cried,

"Oh, cruel man! This is too much—oh, too much!"

I told them it was on account of the muchness that I declined."

IT is quite a task to think how long ago it was that Edison in his manifestos and programmes published to the world that he had found the philosopher's stone, and was about to revolutionize all the motions and applances for turning the crank and lighting the whole round world. And we are yet compelled to haggle with the wood huckster and the cook—the wife of our bosom, a celestial Yankee girl, and not a celestial from the Flowery Kingdom—scolds us because the kindlings are sodden and she does not use the coal oil can, while the whistles from our multitudinous steam engines disturb our six A. M. slumbers. Why has not the man enacted the programme? Well, he is not ready! We obtain from the last number of the Scientific American an answer to the query, in part. It says: "From all that is stated above, it will be seen that little now remains to be done, except to finish the laying of the underground conductors before the first district will be entirely completed and the lighting-up commenced." Reading the foregoing to which our quotation is the conclusion, we find that everything is yet in the future with Edison. We are reminded of the couplet—

"Man never is,
But always to be blest."

for we find no part of his works completed. His engine house is partially built; his dynamo machines are approaching completion, the resistance and regulating apparatus is also nearly completed; the conductors are being laid as rapidly as possible; the lamps are made and stored ready for use; there are 946 places wired and 14,311 lamps provided. Additional to lighting, the works are to provide an electric current to run motors for elevators, hoistings, printing presses and machinery of all kinds. We wait, hopeful that the programme will be played successfully to the end. In connection with this, we note that there has been a consolidation of eight electric light companies in New York. The Gramme Company now controls everything, including Edison. The Scientific American says the combination has been effected "to prevent litigation between the combining companies, and to facilitate the suppression of organizations not in the ring by litigation, or competition, purchase or otherwise." So it appears the electric lighting of this country is in one fist—so to speak—and if the dear people wish to use it, why they must pay for the whistle. Speaking of the electric light, we are reminded of an announcement of a most important improvement in the manner of handling electricity, which, if true, solves the question of using it as the universal motive power. The reader will remember the announcement of a method of storing the electric current as we hold water in a reservoir. Well, an improvement has been made upon the original device for holding the subtle fluid, so that it can be depended upon at any hour the power is wanted, and it can be generated at any time desired before wanted, and by any power sufficiently strong to revolve the machinery, regardless of the regularity of motion. The apparatus has been exhibited at the Crystal Palace, London, before the leading electrical scientists of England, and pronounced an unqualified success. A reservoir forty-three one-hundredths of a cubic foot in dimensions, and containing a metalic composition of about sixty-two pounds weight, will yield a power equivalent to one-horse power for a period of one hour. Electric lights are now fed directly from the generating machine, and any fluctuation of motion causes the light to flicker, hence windmills or horse-powers as motors cannot be used. With the reservoir, the light is not fed directly from the generator, which may be turned by any power at any time in the day or night, and the product is stored to be used when wanted—to-day, to-morrow or next week. We heard a man say many long years ago that the time would come when one could ride on a common road, in an ordinary wagon, propelled by a battery under the seat. This electrical reservoir will fulfill the prophecy.

ABOUT CONSUMPTON.

The English press is just now very much excited over the recent researches and experiments of Dr. Koch of Berlin, in searching for the causes of consumption. He has discovered that the pustule or tubercle cell that forms on the lungs invariably contains a minute, rod-shaped parasite, and has well proven by repeated experiments that this parasite is the cause of the tubercle. And the Medical News, commenting upon the discovery, thinks it may be the solution of the problem so long regarded as insoluble—the cure of consumption,—and thinks it reasonable to suppose the result may be reached through a system of vaccination similar to that of small-pox. The manner in which Dr. Koch proceeded in his investigations is interesting and would appear to be satisfactory in establishing the correctness of his conclusions. He inoculated various small animals with matter from human tubercles. In one instance six guinea-pigs were experimented upon. Four were inoculated. In every instance the infected sickened and lost flesh. After twenty-two days one died, and after thirty-five days the remaining five were killed and examined. In the one that died, and in the other three that had been inoculated, strongly pronounced tubercular disease had set in. Spleen, liver and lungs were found filled with tubercles, while the animals that had not been infected showed no trace of the disease. Similar experiments were made with rabbits, cats, rats and mice, with the same result invariably.

In other experiments Dr. Koch examined the matter expectorated from the lungs of persons affected with consumption and found in it swarms of parasites, while in the matter expectorated from the lungs of persons not thus affected, he has never found the organism. He also found that drying the matter did not destroy the animalculi, for animals inoculated with matter that had been dried for eight weeks were affected precisely the same as those treated with fresh matter. This latter fact establishes the belief tha consumption may be transmitted from inhaling dust that might be disseminated in the atmosphere from the sweepings of rooms occupied by consumptives.

Dr. Koch makes the assertion that one-tenth of the deaths of the human race are due to tubercular disease, while one-third of those who died in active middle age are carried off by the same cause. This fact invests the investigation of the Doctor with great interest, and further information of experimenting in the mine he has discovered will be looked for anxiously and read with great interest by the millions interested in anything that can be looked upon hopefully as an eradicator of the now generally considered incurable disease.

NOTABLE DEATH.

The death of Hon. C. C. Washburn removes from the sphere of his usefulness an intelligent and always reliable Republican. He was a native of the State of Maine,—Kennebec County, we believe—but with his family removed in his young manhood days to the then far west, and has always been prominent in politics, and reliable as a friend of freedom and of the people. As such he will be missed.

WE agree with our esteemed contemporary the Express, in demanding that the nomination for Governor be given to Southern California. That is what we have been asking in the interest of our esteemed fellow citizen Lieut. Governor Mansfield, who we expect to see nominated by the Republican State Convention, and duly elected next November. It will be a case in which modest merit is duly rewarded by the sovereign people.

Jones & Pike wish it understood that their reason for not accepting the proposition of the City Council to put on the remaining water carts was because there are times during the year when only two or three carts are in use, hence they would be compelled to keep the balance of the carts on hand idle during such times.

Now there will be music. A good tenor has long been wanted, and the want is supplied. Sheet music will be plenty about the Beeson mansion, too. Of course it must needs Bee[a]son. The Southern California Packing Company complimented this office with sundry samples of the vegetables they are canning, yesterday. As was stated in these columns a few weeks since, they have engaged large quantities of peas, beans, corn, etc., and they are now engaged in canning the peas. When the samples are tested we shall report further.

Complaints were loud and deep by every class of citizens yesterday on account of the abominable conditions of the streets. The arrival of about one hundred excursionists on Sunday, all looking around the city and inhaling the dust laden breezes yesterday made the infliction especially aggravating. Gentlemen of the City Council, the demand is imperative for immediate relief.

Railroad Accident.

An accident happened about noon Saturday to a freight train going north on the Southern Pacific railroad, just north of Cressey. The train had just crossed a high bridge and entered a cut beyond, when a car wheel broke and thirteen cars were piled up in one chaotic heap, filling the cut almost to the level, and presenting a novel medley of wrecked cars, iron, wood, wheels, freight, lumber, and everything, all piled up indiscriminately. A large force of men were put on immediately to clear it up.

IN MEMORIAM.

Herbert S. Dickey—A Sad Termination of a Useful Life.

A Partial Sketch of His Life—Brilliant Prospects—Blighted Hopes—The Silver Cord is Broken.

An event of unusual sadness, and one that has elicited the profound sympathy of the entire community, is the sudden mental eclipse, followed quickly by the death, of one of our most estimable and promising young men, Mr. H. S. Dickey, one of the proprietors of the Semi-Tropic, published here. His many friends are doubtless already familiar with the chief incidents of the sad occurrence. We shall refer to them only in connection with certain facts remotely or immediately bearing upon them and tending to explain the case.

For about seven years Mr. Dickey had resided among us, engaged most of the time as a bookkeeper, first for Workman Bros., then for some years for the Grange Store, and still later for a time for Vickery & Hinds. In these positions he won the confidence and high personal regard not only of his employers, but of all within the circle of his business and social relations.

It was a little less than a year ago that, feeling the need of relaxation from his confining work, he joined a small party of intimate friends for a trip up Wilson's Trail. He had been somewhat indisposed for some days, and this, added to the heat and thirst, and fatigue of the ascent, entirely overcame him, so that he lay unconscious for an hour or more. He was restored, however, though some effects of the exhaustion lingered and may have superinduced the long and severe spell of typhoid fever which he suffered last November. It was when convalescing from this fever that he purchased a half interest in the Semi-Tropic. Before he had fairly recovered he threw himself with all his enthusiasm and force into the new enterprise. He soon regained his strength, and so, without any cessation of his intense activities, he prosecuted his work. In its interest he visited most of the places in Los Angeles and neighboring counties, and achieved almost phenomenal success, adding many hundreds of subscribers to his paper. His activity, his tact, and his success attracted much attention, and the most liberal inducements were offered to secure his services in other enterprises. In the midst of these activities he devised a novel canopy buggy top, on which he expended much thought, and for which he made application for a patent. Superadded to all this mental strain was a deep religious concern of late, followed by the most happy and convincing experience of the verity of the christian faith. But the overworked brain at last succumbed to the immense pressure. The light of reason began to flicker. His mental aberration was first distinctly observed on the 6th. On the following Sabbath he attended church, but he was not himself. His thoughts were disconnected, his recollections fragmentary. In the night following he was sleepless. A physician was summoned, but nothing availed. On the following morning, it became necessary to confine him. He was removed in the afternoon to a private room. Friends and physicians did all in their power. It was thought best to remove him to the asylum, and hope was entertained that the care and the appliances there might compass his restoration. The attack being acute, it was considered the more favorable. He was accordingly taken to Stockton on Tuesday. No intelligence was received until Saturday, when the message came that he was very low, and would probably not survive long. On Sunday morning the sad news of his death was received. No particulars regarding his last hours are yet known to us.

Thus sudden and sad has been the departure from among us of one of the noblest and most exemplary of our younger citizens. His remains will arrive here this morning, and the funeral services will take place at Fort street church, at 2 P. M., followed by interment in the Evergreen cemetery. Requiescat in pace. Mr. Dickey leaves a widowed mother, whose joy, whose strong support he was. We bespeak the sympathies of all in her behalf in this hour of desolation.

Eve's Daughter.

Mr. Geo. W. Brown is now canvassing this city for Marion Harland's new book entitled, "Eve's Daughter, or Common Sense for Maid, Mother and Wife." This lady is also the author of "Common Sense in the Household," etc. The work is the earnest practical talk of a thoughtful woman, and the style is easy and sprightly, each chapter treating of vital questions, and valuable practical lessons. The book is dedicated to the wives, mothers and daughters of America, and is intended for home reading.

Patent Peddlers.

A fraud and bilk of the dirtiest water is around peddling "patent" clothes wringers. His presence afflicted the good people of Pasadena last week. He persuaded one lady into taking one and signing a paper. Upon telling her husband of the fact, he started out to discover the fellow but could not. The lady does not know whether it was a note she signed or not. If that agent is caught it is safe to say he will get the "old Harry."

DR. BURKS' BRAKE.

A Revolution in Car Working—A Practical Invention.

The problem of providing train brakes for freight cars has for a number of years engaged the minds of railroad men, but owing to the many difficulties in the way no device has yet taken the place of the old hand brakes. It is claimed that the wear and tear is no greater when trains are run at a rate of twenty-five miles an hour than at twelve miles, and that a system of brakes that will enable an engineer to retain perfect control of his train when running twenty-five miles an hour will effect a great saving in transportation. The air brake and others requiring connections from one car to the next, are impracticable owing to the trouble of making and breaking the connections whenever a car is to be taken into or dropped out of the train, and the danger that the connection may break at the instant of application and render the brakes useless. Dr. Burks of this city, who has devoted much study to the subject, has perfected, and recently received a patent for an automatic brake that is very ingenious, yet very simple, and will doubtless prove of great value, both to the inventor and to the railroads. It requires no connection between the car, nor that every car in a train shall be supplied with it. The brake on each car is entirely independent of all others, and the momentum of the moving train is made to overcome itself by acting upon the brakes through the buffers, so that it is no more difficult for the engineer to handle a train of fifty cars than for him to handle the locomotive alone.

Passengers Leaving.

The following passengers left Los Angeles yesterday on the Orizaba, for San Francisco as follows: Mrs McRedy, Miss Annie McGlashan, J A Grady and family, Mrs J Sailer, Miss L E Geller, Mrs P J De F Griffin, A Kerckhoff, W G Kerckhoff, H N Bailey, C Marshall, G E Edwards, J F Ritter, Geo Morrow. A Maxwell, W M Fessenden, F Robinson, M Farnsworth and wife, A G Field, A Nesbitt, Dr W A Cole, J Rich and child, and fifty in the steerage. For Santa Barbara: Abbott Kinney, H Landen, W D S Jackson and wife, J Bojoquey, L Slert, Mrs H M Scott, Miss Annie Fernside, Mrs D Postley, F Niack and wife, Geo M Ford and one in the steerage.

Battery.

Joen Morrison was arrested by officer Celis about half past eleven o'clock on Sunday night, near the old depot, for assault and battery upon B. W. Diffendorfer. The trial will come off to-day before Judge Adams.

DUARTE.

Cumtux tells what he knows of the Doings of his Vicinity.

Abundance of Water—Crop Prospects—Orange Blossoms—Burning Brick—Mortuary Records, etc.

The people of the Duarte are fortunate this year in having an abundance of irrigating water. There will doubtless be plenty in the ditches all summer. The crop prospects were never better. Early potatoes are looking fine, and will soon be a source of revenue to the neighborhood. Early in the season, when the drouth threatened the county, barley was sown extensively, especially in the lower part of the settlement, with a view to the scarcity of hay. The barley could be easily irrigated and looks well. Some are beginning to harvest for hay, while others will head for grain.

Several small vineyards have been planted here this year.

The orange trees are now loaded with blossoms, and the yield of oranges promises to be heavy. This, indeed, is the principal industry of this settlement. The Duarte lies at the eastern extremity of the famous San Gabriel orange belt, and is about eighteen miles from the city of Los Angeles. The climate is equal, if not superior, to that of the Sierra Madre Villa, so noted now, as a health resort.

One of the troubles heretofore has been an imperfect irrigating system, but steps are being taken to remedy this. With plenty of water in the ditches every summer, Duarte will rank as one of the favored spots of Southern California.

Mr. John Mason, recently of Downey, is now making brick here. He will soon burn a kiln of 200,000 bricks, principally for the Duarte Canal and Irrigation Company, who purpose to construct a flume of brick and cement across the San Gabriel river. The Azusa and Duarte take their irrigating water out of the San Gabriel river from the east side of the mouth of the San Gabriel Canyon. The two ditches are thus united during the summer for a short distance, and then the water for the Duarte has to be run across the dry bed of the river, and is greatly wasted in the hot sands. The contemplated flume, well protected from freshets, will, it is claimed, obviate this difficulty.

Mr. Mason is undoubtedly making good brick at very reasonable rates. He already has orders sufficient for another kiln Besides other parties, Capt. H. N. Fowler has ordered 75,000 brick to build a house on his valuable place.

Since January 1st, 1882, the following persons have died on the Duarte: Walter Costello, of Massachusetts, aged 20 years; Edward Lucas, Lizzie Mitchell aged 13 years; Mrs. J. M. Webb and child, Elva May Beardslee; James J. Ellenberg, of Missouri, aged 21 years. With one or two exceptions, these deaths were the result of diseases contracted before the parties came here.

The births during the same time were as follows: To J. M. Webb, a son; to Obed Beardslee, a daughter.

There has been but one marriage this year, viz: Mr. Frank Daniels to Miss Mamie Young, both of the Duarte.
